TITUS LEASES FORD GARAGE FOR THEATRE

PROJECT WILL INVOLVE A SUM TOTALING HUNDRED THOUSAND.

While the papers in the transaction have not been formally signed, practical consummation of one of the biggest business deals in the history of Daytona was announced today.

By the terms of the tentative agreement A. J. Malby, of the Malby Motor Company, and owner of the large two-story brick building at 31 Orange avenue, has taken a lease on the building occupied by the Miner-Williams Moore company, auto dealers, at 17 Orange avenue, and leases his present place of business to Judge H. T. Titus, who will transform it into a handsome, modern and beautifully constructed motion picture theater.

Conrad and Donnelly represent all the parties involved in the transaction and it is being handled personally by Fred N. Conrad. Mr. Conrad stated today that the papers would be signed in a few days.

The building which Judge Titus has leased was built by Mr. Malby a little more than two years ago and since that time it has housed the Ford agency of which Mr. Malby is the head. It is ideally constructed for a motion picture theater, being 70 feet wide and extending back 160 feet, and while the interior will require extensive remodeling this can be done with very little trouble.

The front of the building is enclosed in glass and Judge Titus announced this would not be touched but the interior will be rearranged into a beautiful rest room, the ticket office being in the center with entrances on either side. There will be more than 1,000 seats on the lower floor with 400 in the balcony.

Judge Titus expects to start the work of remodeling the building just as soon as Mr. Malby can move into his new quarters and this will probably be within the next week, and he expects to have the theater ready for opening by March 20.

Judge Titus said that he is alone in making the deal for the new picture house.

"There is no one interested in it but myself," he said. "I am a firm believer in Daytona and in its future and I am backing up my judgment by putting hard cash behind it. I want Daytona to have the best there is and to this end I intend to have a picture show that will be the equal of any in the state, both in attractiveness and in the high class pictures that will be shown there."

Judge Titus said he would manage the theater himself and will continue to operate the Crystal and the New Daytona theaters in connection therewith.

The judge plans to open the theater with "The Queen of Sheba," one of the largest and best motion pictures made during the past year, and for the first week he expects to engage a special orchestra of ten pieces. Arrangements have not yet been made for a permanent orchestra but it will be one of the best it is possible to obtain. The pictures made by the Fox Film Corporation will be shown regularly.

It is understood that Judge Titus has taken a 25-year lease on the building and that his plans for the building and the new theater will involve close to $100,000.

While it is planned to have the theater ready for opening by March 20 this does not mean it will be entirely completed by that time. The downstairs will be completed and opened by that date, according to present plans, but the balcony may not be ready for opening so early and it will require a longer time to complete the decorations and put on the finishing touches that Judge Titus has in mind.

The building into which Mr. Malby will move is owned by the Miner-Williams Moore Company, which recently was dissolved. However, they still occupy the building in winding up the affairs of the company. It was stated that Mr. Williams and Mr. Moore would continue the operation of a machine shop in the rear of the building. Mr. Williams plans to enter other business.

MOURNERS PAY LAST RESPECTS TO DEAD POPE

Mortal Remains of Pontiff Dressed in Ceremonial Robes Today in Throne Room of Vatican—Body Will Be Temporarily Buried Soon—To Occupy Crypt Only Until Final Tomb is Prepared, Not for Year, as is Custom—All Servants Remembered in Will.

ROME, Jan. 23.—A clash occurred between the crowds and the police in front of St. Peter's during the morning in the papal which caused a number of persons were injured. The vast assemblage, which increased in numbers hourly, attempted to break through the police cordon and enter the church.

Following out traditional custom, the Vatican physicians removed from the mortal remains of the pontiff the heart and viscera, to be placed in an alabaster urn, which will repose amidst similar urns in the church of St. Vincent and St. Anastasius.

Masses for the repose of the holy father's soul were chanted throughout the morning before an altar in the papal death chamber, in the chapels of the Vatican, in the great cathedral of St. Peter's, and in all the Catholic churches in Rome.

The mortal remains of the sovereign pontiff, dressed in ceremonial death robes, had been borne by noble guards from the papal chamber to the throne room to lie in state until burial temporarily in a crypt. The body was dressed in a white wool gown with red cape, white cassock and stole, white silk shirt with gold tassels, white stockings, red shoes and gloves and a scarlet cape, with a clasp of precious stones. The head was covered with a violet silk cap lined with ermine. The pontiff wore a ring and gold mitre. There were two circumstances to indicate that a reconciliation between the Vatican and the quinquennial may be near at hand. Contrary to previous custom, the Italian flag was lowered to half staff on all government buildings. Furthermore, the Italian minister of justice, Signor Rodino, who is himself a Roman Catholic, called at the Vatican officially to present condolences of the Italian government.

The funeral bed, bearing the body, rested at the foot of the throne. The head was raised slightly. About the catafalque were numerous candles which shed a dim and flickering light over the scene. The bed was sprinkled with holy water, while the altar of the Vatican, Monsignor Zamponi, and the accompanying prelates, prayed.

The funeral plans will be carried out in accordance with the living wishes of the pontiff. The body will be buried ultimately in the Vatican crypt near the tomb of St. Peter. Extra police guards have been stationed about the Vatican to handle the vast crowds and to prevent any disturbances by communists and anti-clericals.

The body will occupy the crypt until the final tomb is prepared. Ordinarily the body reposes in the crypt for a year.

Usually the body of a pope lies in state nine days after his death, but Benedict XV had expressed the wish that his body be not embalmed.

Various personal possessions at the Vatican were bequeathed by the pontiff to his successor. All of the servants were remembered in the will.

Hans-Moore Company, which recently was dissolved. However, they still occupy the building in winding up the affairs of the company. It was stated that Mr. Williams and Mr. Moore would continue the operation of a machine shop in the rear of the building. Mr. Williams plans to enter other business.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Agriculture must be lifted from the chaotic depths of imminent disaster and placed firmly on a thriving basis by governmental aid, if industrial and commercial America is to survive.

President Harding gave the nation this warning here today in opening the national agricultural conference, called by the executive to effect adoption of a definite federal policy of encouraging the farmer.

The farmer "in his hour of disaster" is entitled to every support and assistance the government can give him, the president told 400 delegates gathered here from all over the country for one of the most important conferences ever held in the national capital.

"If we fail him, we will precipitate a disaster that will affect every industry and commercial activity of the nation," the president asserted.

Greater financial aid, he said, should be extended to the farmer, transportation facilities, rail and water, must be expanded to meet farming needs and every practical proposal for watering arid land, for reclaiming cut-over forests, and for protecting fertile valleys from inundations should be given full encouragement.

"All this," said the president, "should be a part of recognized permanent policy. Not otherwise will it be possible to keep the nation self-supporting and as nearly self-sustained as it has been in the past."

Departing from his set speech, he took a fling at the agricultural bloc in the Senate.

"The whole country," said the president, "has an acute concern with the conditions and problems you are not to consider. It is truly a national interest, and not entitled to be regarded as primarily the consequence of either a class or a section—or a bloc."

The "bloc" was pronounced with considerable emphasis. It was greeted with cheers.

Speaking in the ballroom of the New Willard Hotel, the president told the delegates that conference recommendations cannot be accepted as final, and that the farmer must do something to aid himself. "It cannot be too strongly urged that the farmer must be ready to help himself. This conference would do most lasting good if it would find ways to improve the greatest mass of farmers to avail themselves of the best methods. By this I mean that in the last analysis legislation can do little more than give the farmer the chance to organize and help himself."

The president advocated co-operative marketing. He urged development of all water resources for both transportation and power and called for strong federal supervision of the Lawrence waterway project, designed to permit access of ocean-going vessels to all Great Lakes ports. Certainty of long term loan credits, he suggested, as one means of encouraging the farming industry.

Conference aims were outlined by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. He explained that it was the hope of the administration that the conference might result in establishing more amicable relations between the government and the farmer and devise a permanent policy toward agriculture.

Low price returns for farm products was given as the reason for a drop in quantity production by Sidney Anderson, of Minnesota, chairman of the congressional joint commission of agricultural injuries, who also addressed the opening session.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace opened the conference with the frank warning that "agriculture of the nation is in a bad shape and our entire business and industrial life is suffering in consequence."

"Never before," said Wallace, "has there been brought together in one place at one time a group of men who so completely represent the agricultural life of the nation."

"You have been chosen solely for your known ability to do the job."

FOREIGN DEBT FUNDING BILL DEBATE STARTS

First Move Made to Pay Up Soldiers' Bonus With Money Derived From Sale of Bonds Covering Great Britain's Debt to U. S.—America Ready to Ask France Why She Won't Pay Interest on Debt, but Demands Much of Germany—U. S. Is Ready for Genoa Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Consideration in the Senate of the foreign debt funding bill was begun today as the first move toward carrying out the administration's program of linking the soldiers' bonus with the $11,000,000,000 foreign indebtedness to the United States.

Debate on the foreign debt funding bill is expected to last all week, but administration spokesmen said there is no longer any serious objection entertained by the administration to questions involved by the foreign debt being discussed by the senate while the armament conference is still in session here.

They pointed out that the recent move made by Senator McCormick, Republican of Illinois, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee to require the state department to furnish the Senate with information as to the indebtedness of certain European countries still maintaining large standing armies, was aimed largely at France. Negotiations under way between the United States and the British government have already given the state department definite guarantees that Great Britain is prepared to consent to the issuance of $1,000,000,000 worth of bonds. It was said, not to only provide for the liquidation of the British debt to this country, but to assist the United States government in financing the soldiers' bonus.

The American government is ready to play an important part in the proposed Genoa economic conference with Great Britain and view, with impatience, any refusal of France to join in a general program for the rehabilitation of Europe. It was further explained.

While France is expressing an inability to pay even the interest long over due on her debt to this country, the United States and Great Britain were reported to be ready to inquire of the French government why Premier Poincaré can hope to demand the last mark from Germany in the settlement of the reparations question, especially as France owes Great Britain as much as she does the United States.

particular matter. When in war we called upon men to put on the uniform and fight a common enemy, we took no thought of their political relations. So in asking you to come here, no inquiry was made as to your politics, religion, or anything other than your qualifications for this particular service."

Wallace said comparative remedial action properly lay in three fields: (1) legislative, (2) educational, and (3) individual and organization, work by the farmers themselves to better their methods.

In order to expedite the work of the conference organization he said, states of committees had been arranged and there was no reason why the conference should not get down to work immediately. He announced the appointment of Dr. H. C. Taylor, an executive secretary of the conference, and Representative Samuel Andrews, of Minnesota, as permanent chairman.

If the movies say they will pay Will May may $100,000 he may make a mighty small entry.

POPE'S BURIAL, PLANNED FOR TODAY POSTPONED TO TUESDAY OR WEDNESDAY

PUBLICATION OF TREATIES WITH CHINA DELAYED

JAPANESE SPOKESMAN SAYS IT WILL BE MONTH BEFORE PUBLISHED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Although Japan agreed Saturday to the conference resolution calling upon the powers to place on the table all treaties and secret agreements affecting China, the resolution will never operate in fact during the present conference, it was stated by a Japanese delegation spokesman here today.

The resolution will be carried out insofar as making public all treaties and secret commitments between Japan and China and Japan and any other power affecting China, the official said, but added that "it can hardly be expected that this will be accomplished in the brief period remaining to this conference."

All such treaties and secret agreements are now in Japanese, Chinese or Russian script and would require weeks, if not months, of careful translation before being produced for inspection by the powers of the world, the official said. Tokio has been advised of the resolution, the official declared, and stated that his government will "most probably" set to work immediately to prepare all such papers for universal publication.

The official stated briefly that it was not expected in Japanese quarters that any single document between Japan and China or with any other power affecting China would be ready for such publication within a month. However, he said, the conference would be furnished with a list of all such documents and may be briefly advised of the general tone and contents of each document.

When the documents are ready, he said, they would be forwarded to Secretary General Garrett here in Washington, probably through the Japanese embassy.

EQUAL RIGHTS BILL URGED BY WOMEN IN VA. LEGISLATURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The charge that "Virginia discriminates against her women in many respects" was made here today by Mrs. Burnita Shelton Matthews, on behalf of the social research department of the National Woman's party. The party has opened a campaign through the south with a view to amending state laws which are held prejudicial to women.

"There are now on the Virginia statute books," Mrs. Matthews said, "medieval laws, relics of bygone days, and contrary to the spirit of twentieth-century thought, a well as to the tradition of liberty and equality for which Virginia stands."

To repeat these laws, the Woman's party was stated, is to bring the race back to the Virginia legislature of an equal rights bill.

COLLINS AND CRAIG IN AGREEMENT OVER CONTENTIOUS POINTS

Both called at 10 Downing street before Sir James will leave for the Catholic shipyard work in Limerick, and get a square deal, and both agreed to the appointment of a commission to study the Ulster boundary question.

PLAN HASTY INTERMENT BECAUSE OF WISH NOT TO BE EMBALMED.

PRELATES STOP THE EMBALMING OF BODY ALREADY UNDER WAY

Benedict's Face Calm, With Lips Parted as Though He Would Speak.

ROME, Italy, Jan. 23.—The burial of Pope Benedict XV, which was to take place at 5 o'clock this afternoon from St. Peter's, was postponed late in the afternoon. It is understood that it will take place on Tuesday or Wednesday.

The pontiff had expressed the wish in his will that the body not be embalmed. "It was on account of this stipulation that the decision was originally taken to have a hasty interment in a crypt where the body was to rest until the final tomb was prepared."

The work of embalming the body was already under way when it was stopped by the prelates in charge of the funeral.

After the removal of the body to the basilica of St. Peter's, thousands of mourners passed before the catafalque, paying final tribute to the holy father. Three separate coffins are used in the interment of a pope. One is of cypress, one of oak and the third of solid lead. The body is lowered first into the coffin of cypress. Three purses filled with medals of gold, silver and bronze, which have been struck annually during the pontificate and which bear the effigy of the deceased, are deposited at the foot of the body, within the coffin. There is also a metal cylinder bearing upon script a history of the events during the tenure of the pontiff.

A white taffeta veil is placed over the eyes, another over the hands and one of purple over the breast. The shroud is of red brocade lined with ermine and fringed with gold.

After the notary of the chapter has read the process verbatim, the lid of the cypress coffin is then screwed down amidst the murmur of prayers. The body is then out of the charge of the sacred college and is entrusted to the canon of St. Peter's who conduct the ceremonies of lowering the cypress coffin into the two other coffins of oak and lead.

The body was transferred early in the morning from the throne room to the Sistine Chapel and still later to the basilica of St. Peter's, where it was viewed by mourning thousands during the afternoon. The date for interment had been set for five o'clock and before that time a continuous stream of humanity had flowed between the massive doors of the cathedral.

A wall of soldiers, two deep, formed a lane through which the mourners and spectators passed.

Behind the massive bronze doors of the Sistine chapel the catafalque rested surrounded by fluttering candles of gigantic size. The crimson death couch had been tilted at the head so that all could get a glimpse of the body upon it. It could be seen that Benedict's face was calm and serene and the lips were slightly parted as though he were about to speak.

Four noble guards, with drawn swords, as right as statues, stood beside the body.

ELECTROCUTION IN PLACE OF HANGING

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Electrocution instead of hanging would be made the method of capital punishment in the District of Columbia at the time next, under the terms of a bill by Senator Duff (D), of South Carolina, passed 1918, by the senate.

Japan's Ambitious Plans for Supremacy Menace to Peace of World, Says Dr. I. T. Headland

PERTINENT POINTS ON JAPAN AS MADE BY DR. HEADLAND

Japan has not a friend among all the nations of the world.

Not one altruistic thing, to my knowledge, has been done in the past twenty-five years by Japan, but every move has been a selfish one.

Japan is the most artistically beautiful nation in the world.

The Japanese are the best little adoptors and adepts in the world; nothing original comes out of that country.

A Chinaman's word is as good as his bond, but a Jap's bond is as good as his word.

The word of a Japanese man, woman or child—is not to be trusted. Every utterance and action is for the effect it will create.

Japan's attempt at world supremacy at this time follows closely the rise of Greece, Rome and Germany, and is due the same hard fall of these other grasping nations.

There would be no Yellow Peril if only China was to be considered in the Orient.

The Japanese are the greatest spies in the world; their intelligence system is most complete in every nation.

Those close to inside conditions in Japan today say that every Japanese in America is connected with the spy system of that country.

Japan seized everything in the Orient that Germany had formerly seized, and now offers to give it up for the best part of Asia in exchange.

The female members of the Japanese disarmament party in Washington are not more to be trusted than are the male parties. They're professional publicity seekers.

Japan wants to rule the Pacific as Great Britain rules the Atlantic, and will go to the end of their means to accomplish this result.

It is estimated that more than 100,000 Japanese have entered the United States since the signing of the "gentlemen's agreement" by that nation and America, which was supposed to have stopped immigration from Japan.

Japan grew from a weakling state by the help of Korea and China, and would now knife both nations in the back.

Japanese mothers send their sons into war with a parting instruction that they must return as victors or corpses.

*Developing, printing and enlarging at Lesesne's.

"The problem of Japan, its rapid rise to world fame, its unfair demands on other nations and its grasping attitude toward China and other of the Oriental countries is the only world problem of today," said Dr. Isaac T. Headland Sunday afternoon, in introducing the subject of Japan at the Open Forum meeting which proved to be the most interesting and largest attended of the season's series to date.

"The Irish problem is Britain's, labor problems are national in character as are many others, but the settlement of the Japanese problem is one which is most international in nature and a most serious one," continued the speaker, who was well versed in the subject on which he spoke after spending a score of years in the Orient as a missionary and college instructor. Dr. Headland delighted a Forum audience last year with an address on China, and because of the intense interest in the Japanese question today was cordially invited to return this year, that he might give to a local audience first-hand knowledge on conditions in the Orient that his hearers might be better versed in so important a subject.

To further emphasize the points which he wished to make in regard to the Japanese question, the speaker made five decisive subdivisions of his address, each bringing before a characteristic of the Japanese which lent itself to a clearer understanding of the subject.

The first point was that Japan is the most artistically beautiful nation in the world, with its snow-capped mountains and its beautiful towns and cities, as well as its countryside. This beauty has been instilled into every working of the Japanese mind, said the speaker, so that everything the Japanese does shows this characteristic.

The second point brought out was the characteristic trait of the Japanese as adoptors and adepts—the fact that that nation is supreme in imitation, with no originality. "Korea first, and China later, were the teachers of the Japanese. All they know and all they have is chargeable to these two nations," said Dr. Headland. "What they have accomplished is no credit to them, other than their ability to absorb these teachings and take them as their own."

Soldier First in Japan.
Business characteristics were included in the third point, illustrated by many stories of the treacherous and unreliable business ethics of the average Japanese. "Japan places the soldier first in the list of honorable and useful occupations, and the business man fourth, at best. Exactly opposite is true in China, where the business man heads the list, with the soldier at the lowest level. This fact has helped in a large way to bring about a condition in Japan which is emphasized by the fourth characteristic, that the Japanese are the greatest liars of the world."

"For 400 years, from 1500 to 1900, Japan was under military rule, when the monarch of the country was pushed to the background and military rule reigned supreme. The training is still in the blood of the Japs, who place military training above all else."

"The Japanese are the greatest liars of the world."

that he may some day subdue the world by the use of arms.

"The greater portion of the religion of Japan is based on hero-worship, with fate playing a large part in the examples of valor shown in battle. It is fated that the Jap will be killed in battle, it will be so, in the mind of the Jap. This trait has led the nation to the height of militarism that it has reached today."

The fifth and last of the chief characteristics of the present-day Japanese is the enormous and far-reaching spy system which is maintained, declared by world experts to be the greatest ever formed. "Japan's earnest endeavor to control the Pacific, as Britain controls the Atlantic, has brought about a spy system which reaches into every city and hamlet in the world, it is said. As an intelligence agent, the average Japanese is superior," said Dr. Headland.

Problems of the Pacific.
The problems of the Pacific, according to the noted authority, are eight in number:

(1) The California menace of the Jap, brought about by a breaking of the "gentlemen's agreement" between the United States and Japan, by which Japan was to cease immigration, but which has resulted in an influx of Japanese, which the United States has been unable to stop because of the delicacy of the situation at present.

(2) The Sandwich Islands, where 60 per cent of the population are Japanese, and where the Japs are fast gaining a stronghold for control of the Pacific.

(3) The Philippine Islands, where the same condition is found.

(4) Korea, where Japan holds a club over the heads of the people and has crippled the numerically.

(5) Manchuria.

(6) Inner Mongolia.

(7) Eastern Siberia, where Japan has taken large slices of territory by force of arms from weaker people.

The eighth and last great Pacific problem today, Dr. Headland said, is Shantung, which Japan seized from Germany during the world war, after Germany had seized it earlier. "Shantung is most necessary for the peace and prosperity of China, since it divides the north from the south," he said. "Japan in Shantung is a menace in the Orient which can hardly be magnified. Now Japan offers to give up this territory to China in exchange for a large slice of Asia, which would give her control of many important seaports and much territory belonging to other nations."

Like Ancient Greece and Rome.

The speaker graphically compared the rise of Japan with that of ancient Greece and Rome, later Spain, and still later Great Britain and Germany, showing that all these nations which arose to world supremacy obtained their ends by conquering nations as strong as themselves, and by crushing them—all with the exception of Great Britain, which has remained a world power because, opposite to these methods she has assisted her conquered dominions, even at the expense of the homeland.

"Where Britain has been altruistic, all the other great nations which have arisen to such heights in the past have been selfish; hence their fall. This is true of Japan, and the same fate is due Japan which befell Greece, Rome and Germany. No nation or individual can rise to fame by using other nations or friends as stepping stones and long retain supremacy. It is not God's way," said the speaker.

Following the address the usual period of discussion was held, which proved even more interesting than the address, since it brought out further facts of the characteristics of the Japanese unknown to a majority of the audience.

Previous to the address the Elks' band gave a short concert, which was greatly enjoyed, the local band showing exceptional talent. A questionaire on Sunday auto racing was also taken, the vote to be announced later.

It was announced that next Sunday the Forum speaker-guest will be Dennis A. McCarthy, "The Riley of Ireland," who will speak on "That Irish Question."

Many Hear Talk On Blue Laws By Rev. Sam Small

Two of the largest audiences that ever greeted a public speaker in the Triple Cities heard the Rev. Sam Small, nationally known lecturer and minister, who spoke here yesterday afternoon and last night.

Dr. Small's first address was delivered in the First Baptist church at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, his subject being "Blue Laws vs. Red Laws" and with his characteristic wit, humor and logic he held the attention and undivided interest of his audience throughout the lecture.

The speaker showed how the so-called "blue laws" enacted by the national congress and by state legislatures are of vastly more importance to the welfare of the country than so-called "red laws," which, under the guise of personal liberty, in reality have the effect of undermining the religious, moral and social structure and of nullifying the advancement and progress which it has taken centuries to achieve.

Dr. Small was introduced by Rev. H. S. Rightmire, pastor of the church, and several pastors of other churches were present, as all were cooperating in making this meeting a success as the address was delivered, and the meeting held under the auspices of the National Reform Association which is seeking to make all laws conform to the standards of Christianity.

Dr. Small also spoke last night at the Calvary Baptist church, Daytona Beach, on the subject "America: For Caesar or Christ?"

Cobe's Minstrels, Fine Singing Show, Attraction Tonight

"A Fine Singing Show" is the verdict of patrons of Joe Coburn's Minstrels at all times. Manager Coburn gives his particular attention to the voices and the training of all solo and chorus numbers in his attraction and it is said this year's performance is above the average in this respect. "Cobe" is a capable musician as well as business manager and makes every effort to deliver the goods in every branch of the performance honestly and likewise demands the best efforts of those engaged at all times. There are many new voices in the male chorus, and one of the strongest numbers in the Ohio is a singing act comprising the soloists of the first part in a novel setting and costuming in combinations of voices and the latest numbers in place of the old Male Quartette. The past reputation of Coburn's Minstrels in this respect should assure a first-class attraction at the Auditorium in Daytona Beach tonight.

Noted Billiard Players, World Champions, Here

Daytona is at this time entertaining two world champions, in the persons of Wm. W. King and his wife, Mrs. Bertha May King of New York city, who are motoring over the entire south, making their first trip, however, down the east coast. Mr. King is champion fifteen or no count pocket billiard champion, while Mrs. King is the woman champion of the world. They have traveled the United States and Canada for many years, putting on exhibition of their skill. Although they have visited Jacksonville three times, they had never previously journeyed south of St. Augustine, but now, in a car, they are planning to tour the entire state after a brief visit here.

Old timers, learning of their presence in the city have prevailed upon them to put on an exhibition here, and arrangements are expected to be made later for games at the Elks Club, the Halifax River Yacht Club and the Hotel Edgewood, where ladies of the city will be extended invitations to see Mrs. King play, as well as men.

E. I. Potter, president and managing director of the Clarendon hotel, left this morning for a business trip to New York, expecting to be gone about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Weston are rejoicing over the arrival of a seven pound daughter, born Sunday evening. Mother and baby are doing nicely. Mr. Weston is cashier at the East Coast Bank & Trust Co.

New York Stock Market :

TOPEKA, Jan. 23.—The stock market showed a steady advance at the opening today. Steel common started higher at 47 1/2, and Western common at 57 1/2. Crude oil closed at 17 1/2. The market for Mexican common was weak, trading 1/2 to 1 1/2. Texas Common advanced 1/2, higher at 42 1/2, but fell to 42 1/2. Railroads advanced, but not so high. New Haven moving up to 26. Whatsoever Elevated was 1 point higher at 24, and International Paper gained one point at 26.

After showing a declining tendency during the greater part of the first hour, the stock market developed activity and strength in many groups. Steel Stocks were vigorous in the middle, moving up from 44 to 52 1/2. The traction stocks were dead in a large scale, but made substantial gains. Interborough produced moved 1 1/2 to 1. Northern Steel was an active strong bidder, advancing 1/2.

Steel common, after falling to 45 1/2, came back to 50 1/2.

The market continued irregular and uncertain, with small gains in either direction. Seed wheat, after meeting up to 36¢, declined to 35½¢, with annual increases in the other seed classes. Gulf States had a strong upward, advancing 40 points to 74 1/2.

The market closed irregular, trading being continued on a small scale in the bread trading. Sheet Cornmeal advanced nearly one point to 35½¢. Flour was 3 points lower at 96½¢. Buckwheat put down to 87½¢. There was little business in the trading.

There was no change in the wheat, but a few other grades advanced. There was some wheat selling very cheaply, between 72 and 80¢.

COTTON REPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The census of grain yields in 1929, reported, showing a decline, started in January 18, from the crops of 1928 and 1929, respectively, is follows:

Cotton. Main crop bales amounting to 4,444,742.

Wool. Main bales amounted, 12,177, and 12,457.

American Soybeans, 12,362, and 12,495.

Soy Beans, 1,122, and 1,221.

Report for states follows: Alabama, 26,242; Arizona, 25,187; Arkansas, 25,187; California, 26,242; Florida, 25,187; Georgia, 12,177; Louisiana, 25,187; Mississippi, 25,187; Missouri, 25,187; North Carolina, 25,187; Oklahoma, 25,187; South Carolina, 25,187; Tennessee, 25,187; Texas, 25,187; Virginia, 25,187; and other

COTTON MARKET.
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Trade was quiet during the early trading of the cotton market today. Few sales were announced at these points. Lower Local operators and New Orleans interests bought, while Liverpool and continental houses sold. None of the recessions early were caused by weak cables and other foreign market news.

The market broke sharply in the last hour on heavy selling by wire houses. The close was steady at a net decline of 1/2 to 1/4 points.

Only Safe and Sane Course is to Elect Commissioners Just Nominated—Defer Charter Reform for the Present—Insure Fruit of Victory in Primary —Meantime Carefully Prepare Charter Worthy of Daytona.

During the past week we have given to the voters of Daytona a review of the proposed charter to be voted upon tomorrow, together with a fair and honest criticism of its provisions and if the voters have read the articles published from day to day we are sure that they must clearly see that the objections we urge are directed solely and only to the proposed charter in the form it is submitted; that we are in no sense opposed to charter reform or to any movement in the interest of Daytona, and that we will gladly join in any movement for the betterment of the city or its form of government.

However, in view of the many patent and flagrant inconsistencies and illegalities of the proposed charter; the many utterly uncertain terms in reference to matters of vital importance in city government; the certainty of litigation if the charter should be adopted; and further in view of the recent nomination for city commissioners of high-minded men, men on whom the city can confidently rely for honorable, honest and capable conduct of its affairs, we are driven to the conclusion that the wise and sensible and only safe course at this time is to elect the recent nominees as commissioners and insure to the city the fruits of its hard fought victory in the primary last Tuesday. No one can insure the result of an election of commissioners under the proposed charter if adopted. At such election the opposing forces will have the entire strength equal. Victory might easily be turned into humiliating defeat. Defer charter reform for the present—elect the able men nominated last Tuesday—insure the administration of the city's business upon a plane worthy of its citizenship, and at the meantime useful work can be given to this charter movement and a charter prepared which will meet the requirements of the city—a charter which is in every way modern, legal and not in direct conflict with state laws and can then be adopted by the legislature or vote of the people, by the assent of complete harmony of the provisions and the belief of representative government of the city and the

These conclusions are brought about from our careful study of the proposed charter which at best offers nothing in the way of improvement.

You may not have been able to read all of the criticisms published and we feel that it will be helpful to the voters to here review some of the vital defects, contradictions and illegalities contained in the proposed charter.

1. No provision is made for filling vacancies in the commission by death, resignation, removal, forfeiture or otherwise and the city may at any time find itself without a governing body and no means of providing one until the next general election.

2. The commission is given unlimited powers in the matter of taxation, general and special, and in reference to improvements the provisions are mandatory upon petition of majority of abutting owners and require payment of the city's part if that is, leading to bankruptcy or the pay-bills—certainly on the

7. No contract of the City or in which the City is interested shall be valid until approved by the City Attorney, City Clerk, City Assessor, the officer making such contract and in many instances by the City Commission and City Manager as well. Imagine this complication and red tape necessary in employing a day laborer. These provisions apply to every contract.

5. The proposed charter requires the City Assessor to assess all taxes, but also provides that there shall be no such office. Then who shall assess them? Isn't it vital to the city that it know that it can legally assess and collect taxes to defray its necessary expenses?

9. Three provisions are made for collecting taxes, each of these directly contradicting the other. Two of these provisions are absolutely mandatory and directly contradict each other. The charter provides:

(b) that he shall proceed by the enforcement of liens through the courts and

THE PEOPLE OF DAYTON:

For the past few days a number of articles signed by the "CITIZENS' COMMITTEE" have appeared in a local newspaper. The CHARTER BOARD COMMITTEE has either the time now the money to enter into newspaper controversy with a "COMMITTEE" so abundantly endowed with funds for anti-charter propaganda as this "CITIZENS' COMMITTEE" appears to be.

WHO AND WHAT is the "CITIZENS' COMMITTEE"? Unheralded and unnamed has come to lead you through the RED DIRT of municipal difficulties. Should you demand to see its credentials before accepting, without question, the correctness of its anti-charter propaganda? From the substance and style of its various matters of propaganda, we judge that one of its members is an attorney with considerable experience in considering and dealing with municipal charters, public service transactions and municipal bond corporation bonds. We appreciate the various criticisms of the proposed charter, and we feel confident that this technical expert is anxious to discuss any REAL objections to the form and substance of our charter. ALL THE FAMOUS "DEFECTS" THAT ARE CAUSING THE "CITIZENS' COMMITTEE" SUCH AN AGONY OF DELIRIOUS APPREHENSION ARE EITHER REMOVED BY SECTIONS 4, 7-6, 10, 108, 187, 194, OR MAY BE CURED BY ORDINANCE. READ THE CHARTER AND BE CONVINCED.

So much for the "wasteful-maintainers" and our critics. Let us call your attention to a few interesting facts regarding the City-Manager agitation in Dayton.

About six months ago the members of the undersigned organizations decided that it was time for the business of the City of Dayton—a MUNICIPAL CORPORATION—to be operated upon a purely business basis. To commemorate this change a Charter Board composed of one of each of the undersigned organizations and three members from the city at large were elected, and drafted the charter we are now considering.

THE PROPOSED CHARTER IS SELECTED FROM THE CHARTERS OF THE CITIES OF MIAMI, ST. AUGUSTINE, TAMPA, DAYTON, OHIO; ST. PETERSBURG, SANFORD AND TALLAHASSEE. LITTLE OR NO ORIGINAL MATTER IS INCORPORATED IN IT.

These charters have been carefully considered by the Charter Board, and their best features ingrafted into our proposed charter. The affairs of each of these municipal corporations are being successfully operated at the present time under their respective charters. Is this not a sufficient recommendation for the sufficiency of our proposed charter?

The municipal corporation of the City of Dayton is the largest corporation doing business in Volusia County—why should not its business operate in the approved manner for the handling of corporation affairs? The proposed charter provides for an executive head of our municipal corporation, to be designated City Manager, and a Board of Directors to be known as Commissioners. These men are to be in charge of the business affairs of our municipal corporation.

REMEMBER THIS: The proper execution of the business of municipal corporations depends upon the proper application of the basic principles of business efficiency—NOT UPON POLITICS OR POLICIES! The day of unsystematic management and "pork barrel politics" is over—our city can become a success as soon as its business affairs are efficiently handled! At the present time there are two hundred and thirty-two (232) successful City-Manager Municipal Governments in the United States—FOURTEEN OF THESE ARE IN OUR STATE.

We hesitate to inject anything of a personal character in this communication but we cannot neglect this opportunity to call your attention to the personnel of our organization that is sponsoring this City-Manager plan of government. You know all of us. You meet our members daily and they are your best friends. We will always be here with you. Our members are citizens who have chosen Dayton as their home and must earn a livelihood here. WHO COULD BE MORE INTERESTED IN GETTING THE BEST FOR DAYTON? AND WHO WOULD GIVE YOU A MORE SINCERE ADMONITION FOR CONSTRUCTIVE EFFORT THAN WE?

Go to the polls tomorrow and help us place the operation of our municipal corporation upon a business basis.

Read tomorrow morning's paper for a list of the advantages the city will receive under the new charter.

Second Convention County Y. M. C. A. at College Arms

Invitations have been issued to more than two hundred men and boys of the county to attend the Second Annual Convention Dinner, which will take place at College Arms Hotel, the evening of Jan. 27, at 8 o'clock.

The preliminary meetings have been held at New Smyrna and Daytona. The attendance at each place was 65 and 75 respectively. The Daytona meeting should eclipse all former meetings.

Dr. Joseph Roemer of University of Florida and Frank A. Jackson, State Y. M. C. A. Secretary for Florida, will be the principal speakers. Reports of the varied activities of the county Y. M. C. A. will be made in brief oral form. Plenty of good lively music will feature the program. F. C. MacMahon is expected to have charge of this part of the program.

Miss Host Brooks promises all the usual attractions of the most select and popular hotel.

Tickets may be secured from any of the following who are members of the County Committee: Dr. Dean T. Smith, W. J. Gardiner, Geo. A. Main, J. H. Meagley, Rev. H. S. Rightmire, J. P. Busham, E. H. Shoemaker, J. Blair Dunn and Rev. C. E. Wyatt, or County "Y" Office, Daytona.

FOREIGN SCIENTISTS IMPORTED TO PRODUCE IMPOISONOUS BOOZE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Bootlegging in these Volsteadian days has now reached the point where affluent bootleggers are importing foreign scientists to aid them in their work.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes announced today that his detectives are hot on the trail of two German scientists, brought from Europe to reconvert denatured alcohol into something with authority.

Vast quantities of denatured alcohol are being bought up by bootleggers at 35 cents a gallon, Haynes said. The poisonous elements are extracted by a scientific process and then the good alcohol made in a concoction that sells as "booted" stuff.

The Germans are operating in New York, Haynes said.

"Samples of this doctored whiskey showed various methods of coloring and in the conversion process," said Haynes. "Iodine was used in some instances."

The converted alcohol does not kill, blind, paralyze, spavine or permanently cripple, it was stated, but it has queer effects on the drinkers.

These other nations object to seeing America first.

WORRIED WIVES-- READ THIS

HALF SICK, CROSS HUSBANDS
WILL BE HELPED BY GUDE'S
PEPTO-MANGAN

Is he "cross as a bear" when he comes home? Is he nervous and a bit pale and always tired? You can help him back to health with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. He is run-down, and Pepto-Mangan, the wonderful blood tonic with the right kind of iron in it, will build him up. Help your husband get plenty of red blood and he will be well and good-natured again and stronger, too. Good blood, good health, makes happy good humor—that is the way it goes. If you don't give him some kind of a tonic he will probably get worse—they usually do. Go to the drug store and ask for Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. It is pleasant to take and works wonders if taken daily for a few weeks.—Advertisement.
